Harold

I just had to write you a few lines to say that I was pleased to see you last week at the mall, the hardest part when you leave a mall after 14 years is all the friendships I had gained in these years, then to come back and see so many of them in just one day. I can only say to you that your friendship along with your knowledge and Wisdom, Has not only influenced my thinking it makes me proud to know you. Everytime I pick up your books it makes me prouder to not only to read there knowledge, but to also gain there foundations. The only way I can say thanks is to say God Blessed you. and we have only to gain.

Sincerely
Wayne Erich
